ANSWERS TO QUERIES; AND MISCELLANEOUS CORRECTIONS.

Mr. URBAN, Dec. 31.

IF it be true that some of the Kingsworal colliers have sold their Bibles, p. 842, which I hope it is not; it is no more an argument against Methodism, than, if such a thing has been done by a member of the Church of England, it would be an argument against our Religion. Mr. Wesley did great good by teaching those a sense of Religion who had none before. Our own Clergy either could not effect this, or would not take the trouble, I have no doubt he is now reaping the reward of his labours.

P. 843. Two-penny-pieces, Halfpence, and Farthings, were struck by Mr. Boulton; but they are not in circulation.

P. 843. Sir Charles Raymond's title of Baronet was limited over to Sir William Burrell, who married one of his daughters (the other married Henry Boulton, Esq. of Letherhead); and on Sir William's death, it descended to his eldest son, now Sir Charles.

Sir Merrick Burrell, of West Grinsted-Park, Sussex, was created a Baronet in 1766, with remainder to his great nephew, Peter, son of his nephew, Peter Burrell. The title, on Sir Merrick's death, descended to Sir Peter, since created Lord Gwydir.

Peter and William were sons of Peter Burrell, of Beckenham, in Kent, esq. which estate, on his death, descended to his eldest son Peter; and Lord Gwydir has it now, and has very much improved the seat, in which he has a noble collection of most valuable pictures.

Sir William purchased the house called Dibden, at Dorking, built by the late Duke; resided, and died there.

Of Gayton I know nothing.

P. 819. Eusebius has received, p. 941, a very just castigation for his strange censure of Sunday-schools; an institution which must be held in the highest esteem by all who think Religion of importance. S. H.

Mr. URBAN, Dec. 31.

THE writer of "The true State of the Roman Catholics in Ireland" very improperly confines the meaning of the Protestants to the members of the Established Church of Ireland. Now, in the general acceptation, the word Protestant denotes Christians of all sects and denominations, who are not Roman Catholics, or members of the Greek Church. Dr. Johnson's definition is near the truth, but not quite correct, or rather common usage has deviated from his correctness. A. B.

Mr. URBAN, Dec. 31.

THE best mode to invite a horse to eat his oats on refusal of them, p. 1032, is, to sprinkle a minute quantity of fine salt with them.

The following medicine will give the lady, p. 1020, relief.—Let one ounce of Colombo-root, coarsely powdered, one ounce of Turkey Rhubarb, thinly sliced, be infused, or steeped in a quart bottle of mountain-wine 48 hours; then pour off clear.—Take a table-spoonful at bed-time, every other night. Perhaps peculiar circumstances required this mode of assistance, otherwise it is irregular, and rather illiberal.

The Order of Precedency, if recorded in your Magazine, will be useful to many of your readers, who cannot on that subject resort for information, to other larger works, I have sent you an authentic table.

THE inscription on the reverse of the Gold Coin of Arcadius, found at Silchester, engraved in your vol. LXII. 529, is to be thus read at large (not as there, or LXIII. 1190),

VICTORIA AVGVSTORVM:

The two emperors, Arcadius and his father Theodosius, entering Constantinople A. U. C. 1139, A. D. 386.

M. D. perhaps Monetarii tertii; for it cannot be Mediolani percussa. Conflentinopoli obsignata. O. B.

Mr. URBAN, Dec. 31.

IN justification of Sir George Staunton, p. 937, the Gazette that announced the last Irish honour given to the ambassador to China, described him as created "Earl of Macartney in the county of Antrim."

P. 935, b, and 936, a. How comes the word future to be printed future?.

P. 958, a, 19. For Scotland, should we not read Stilly?

P. 960, b, 24. For supporting should we not read opposing?

P. 1001, col. 1, l. 27, read "Montague."

P. 1001, col. 2, l. 21, r. "Garmstone."

P. 1003, col. 1, l. 18, dele the comma after next, and put it after prefent.

P. 1003, col. 1, l. 33, read "Skidby."

P. 1003, col. 2, l. 7, read "Holdernefs."

P. 1003, col. 2, l. 4 from bottom, read "Perret."

P. 1004, col. 1, l. 2 and 8, read "Heffle."

P. 1004, col. 2, l. 5, read "Ferriby."

P. 1004, col. 2, l. 7, read "overspread."

P. 1004, col. 2, l. 13, read, "grazing."

P. 1004, col. 2, l. 17, read "Duncil."

P. 1004, col. 2, l. 20, read "Skidby."

P. 1115, col. 1, l. 22. The author of "The Pursuits of Literature" adds this note: "Mrs. Charlotte Smith, Mrs. Inchbald, &c. &c. ladies who are continually whining or frisking in novels, turning the heads of our girls with wild and romantic adventures."

Yours, &c. E.

Mr. URBAN, Dec. 31.

THE ingenious Dr. John Aikin, noticed in p. 930, col. 1, published an octavo in 1780, intituled, "Biographical Memoirs of Medicine in Great Britain."

Mr. Odell, a clergyman of Brunswick, in New Jersey, North America, was said to be the writer of the admirable Inscription for Dr. Franklin's Chamber Stoves, in p. 966.

P. 987, col. 2, l. 1, read "Holbeck;" and, in the obscure passage about Zimmerman, p. 1024, col. 1, for "the present month" read "November;" and, p. 1037, col. 1, l. 10, for "poem" read "pamphlet."

This opportunity shall be taken for adding the following corrections in vol. LXVI.

P. 1020, col. 2, l. 15, read "p. 8;" and, in p. 1055, col. 1, l. 18, ecase "esq.;" and, l. 20, for "Oxon" read "co. Warwick;" and, in p. 1060, col. 2. l. 14, read "Calworth;" and, in p. 1119, col. 1, l. 44, for "master" read "curator;" and, l. 49, for "Camb." read "Oxford." What is meant in col. 2, l. 52, by "that cathedral?"

In the "Index to the Books," part I, for "Warton" read "Weston;" and, on the back of the title page of part II, col. 1, l. 19, for "712" r. "782." SCRUTATOR.

IN answer to J. G. p. 1019, who enquires what book best teaches the principles of modern chemistry, or rather chymistry, I would recommend to him some one of the Encyclopedias. He will there see most of what is already known, of the principles, and which is but trifling, of what is yet to be found out. B. I. R.

Mr. URBAN, St. James's-square, Dec. 31.

THERE was published at Cambridge, about 20 years ago, a Latin Translation of the "Splendid Shilling," in hexameter verse, and anonymous; I had a transient view of it, and thought it very excellent. Who was the Translator?

An OLD CORRESPONDENT.
